Olive Fruit Fly Trap & Lure

Olive Fruit Fly Facts

The Olive Fruit Fly was first found in California in 1998. In some parts of the world, the fly destroys 100% of some table cultivars and 80% of oil production. The maggots feed inside the fruit, causing rot and ruining the fruit. Remove old fruit from the ground and destroy it to kill overwintering larvae. Place traps in late February and maintain them through the harvest. For best results, use multiple traps in each tree.

Easy to install:

- 1 Make a pinhole in the small plastic lure. This activates the sex pheromone.
- 2 Punch a hole, 1/4 inch or smaller, in the clear pouch. This activates the food lure. CAUTION: The pouch contains ammonium carbonate. Wear gloves and do not spill the powder.
- 3 Attach the hanger through the lure, pouch, and sticky trap as shown.
- 4 Peel the release paper from the front and back of the sticky trap as shown.
- 5 Hang the activated traps as high as possible in the olive trees. Place traps 1 to 2 feet into the canopy, with a foliage-free space of about 12 inches around the traps. In case of wind, anchor the bottom of the traps with extra hanger strips.

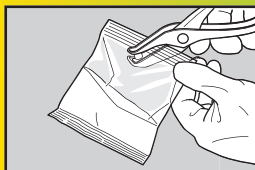

Wear gloves while handling, and wash hands after installing traps.

In case of contact, remove glue with vegetable oil.

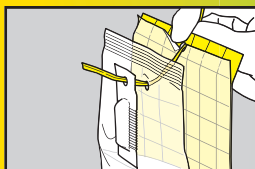

Keep out of reach of children and pets.
